ONESPAN SIGN FOR MERIDIANLINK

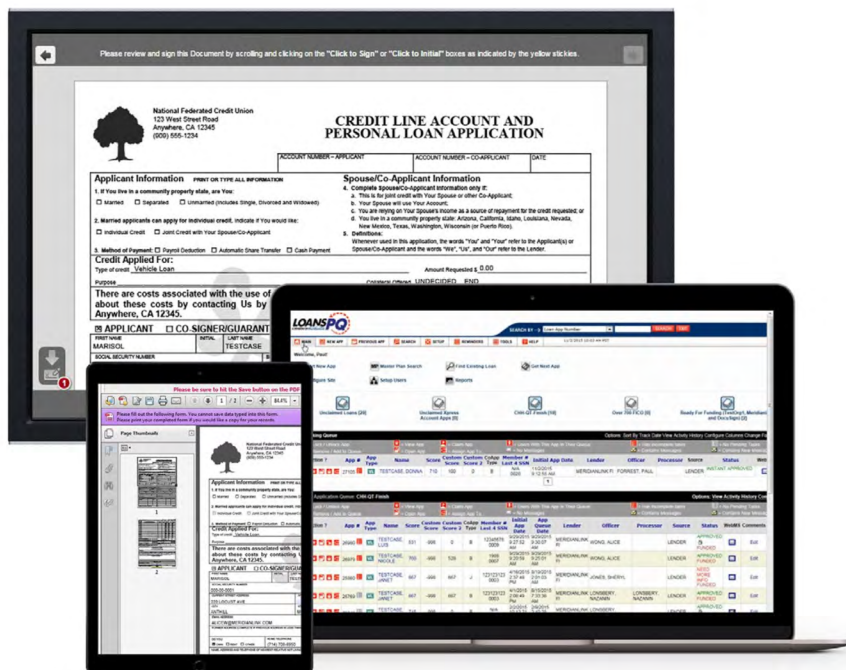

Credit unions using the MeridianLink LoansPQ and Xpress Accounts platform can now originate, approve, e-sign and fund all of their transactions from within MeridianLink’s workflow.

As more credit unions go through their digital transformation journey, e-signatures are seen as a key enabling technology to build better experiences for members, both in the branch and through remote channels. With OneSpan Sign’s pre-integrated connector with MeridianLink, credit unions can access e-signature capability directly from the LoansPQ and XPress Accounts interface they already use every day. With a few clicks, document packages can be sent out to remote members for e-signing. Or, if the member is in the branch, e-signing can take place face-to-face, using a tablet, laptop, desktop computer or other device. Once completed, documents are automatically archived in MeridianLink for future use and easy access.

“Member experience is a strong driver for many financial organizations that choose to implement e-signatures. We’re adding convenience and speed for members while eliminating inefficiencies like printing, tagging, scanning and shredding.”

Mitchel Chilcott
North Peace Savings and Credit Union CEO

PRODUCT DIFFERENTIATORS

Highest adoption rates

- An intuitive UI for members means they don't need any training - signature cues prompt members to sign in all the right places
- Members don't need an account to e-sign documents

Most comprehensive audit trails

- Static and patented visual audit trails capture the entire signing process from beginning to end, so you can track and replay transactions for compliance purposes and internal controls

Most flexible solution

- Automate simple and complex workflows - no need to compromise on any requirement
- Choose from a wide range of user authentication options and signature capture methods
- Customize the signer process for your members, across any channel and any device, including mobile

Secure, legal and compliant

- Tamper-evident seal for each signature
- One-click, vendor-independent verification of signatures
- OneSpan meets the highest security standards including SOC 2, FedRAMP and HIPAA
- No need to store documents in the OneSpan service - verifiable documents can be downloaded and stored in your chosen system of record

White-labeling

- Fully whitelabel the UI so customers see only your brand during the signing workflow. When you send documents to members to e-sign online, they will recognize the interface as belonging to your credit union
